Introduction

These guidelines have been designed to ensure that the integrity of the Aither brand is maintained through all communications.

Through reading these guidelines and by always using the digital artwork supplied, you can ensure the Aither brand always delivers a consistent presentation. It is also important to arrange appropriate proofs wherever possible when reproducing artwork to ensure accurate colour and layout.

These guidelines have been put together to assist us and our partners with managing our brand to ensure clear and consistent communications. They provide visual and written information to consumers in plain language which forms the essential conditions to establish and maintain the Aither brand identity.

These guidelines are a necessary aid in promoting a consistent style to which all advertising, stationery, signage and various visual communication or expressions are to be adapted. This consistency ensures the integrity of the Aither brand identity.

The examples provided in these guidelines provide indicative standards which should be regarded as benchmarks when working with the Aither identity.

Any variations of the prescribed identity in form, shape, proportions, use, size, colour or relative placement of typography are unacceptable. Authorisation to use the brand identity is at the discretion of Aither who may exercise the right to reject incorrect or inappropriate reproduction of the brand identity.

Brand administrator

All uses of the Aither brand must be signed off by the Brand Administrator prior to reproduction. This is to ensure that consistency is achieved, and standards are adhered to.

A sample of any new item where the brand appears, needs to be submitted to the Brand Administrator for approval.

Any work which is commissioned which diverges from given standards and which has not been approved by the Aither Brand Administrator will be in breach of these guidelines. Customers should be aware of the stringent conditions placed on the Aither brand and associated brand marks and the same terms and conditions apply to customers' use of the Aither visual elements.

Master brand mark

The Aither brand mark is the core element of the brand.

The brand mark is made up of a type mark. Each and every time Aither appears in an external document as a brand mark, approval and sign-off for correct usage must be obtained by the Brand Administrator.

A I T H E R

Correct written brand

It is important to adopt a consistent approach to how the word Aither is written across all medium, internally as well as externally.

Written word consistency

Each and every time the word Aither is to be written, including typed correspondence, it is to appear as with the first character in uppercase. The only exception where the word will appear as lower case, is the URL and emails.

Supplied file formats

All the master artwork files have been provided as the highest quality most flexible file formats. That is EPS or PDF for print and high resolution artwork and JPEG or PNG for digital or web based applications.

We have used EPS or PDF files as they are small and efficient and can be viewed by most stakeholders. They should be used for all professional printed communications. They are created as Illustrator vector files and are resolution independent. They are the highest quality files and can be converted to Illustrator EPS or AI files with no loss of quality and can be scaled to any size.

For electronic use we have created high resolution RGB JPEG or PNG files. They can be used in Microsoft applications like

Word and Powerpoint. They are ideal for electronic communication and can be used up to about 5cm high when laser printing.

Master brand mark - Matrix

Here is a list of the different file types and their roles.

Artwork files have been created for most realistic production scenarios. Where appropriate, the files are resolution independent EPS or PDF files (vector) or high resolution RGB PNG or JPEG files.

Colour

The most used format.

Reversed

ONLY for situations where the brand mark needs to be reversed out of a dark background.

Mono

One colour artwork for use in black and white publications or line artwork applications

The word "AITHER" is displayed in a bold, blue, sans-serif font with wide letter spacing.

Colour

The word "AITHER" is displayed in a bold, blue, sans-serif font with wide letter spacing, where the letters are filled with white and have a blue outline, making them stand out against a dark background.

Incorrect use of brand mark

The Aither brand mark may not be redrawn or altered in any way or under any circumstances.

Do not compress, extend or distort the brand mark in any way.

Do not reproduce the brand mark text in any other typeface.

Do not alter the colours of the brand mark.

Do not infringe upon clear space or add any extra elements to the brand mark.

Do not rotate the brand mark.

Do not reproduce the brand mark on a photographic or illustrative graphic or background that does not provide sufficient contrast.

Do not compress, extend or distort the brand mark in any way.

Do not reproduce the brand mark text in any other typeface.

Do not alter the colours of the brand mark.

Do not infringe upon clear space or add any extra elements to the brand mark.

Do not rotate the brand mark.

Do not reproduce the brand mark on a photographic or illustrative graphic or background that does not provide sufficient contrast.

Clear space and minimum size

Clear space

To maximise the visual impact and integrity of the brand mark a 'clear space' must be allowed. This ensures that no other elements are positioned within the area specified. The 'clear space' signifies the minimum clearance only; where possible, more space should be maintained. The dimension of the 'clear space' is in direct relationship to any size in which the brand identity may appear. The clear space is recognised as the 'x-height' which is the cap height of the wording 'Aither'. Please refer to the diagram opposite.

Clear space (x-height)

Minimum size

To ensure that the clarity of the Aither brand mark is maintained, you must adhere to a minimum size. The minimum size is based upon the cap height of the wording 'Aither'. As a rule, it should never be reduced to a size smaller than 6.5mm. Refer to example opposite.

Dark Colours

To be used for graphs, headings, infographics and behind white text.

Headshot photography

All headshots must adhere to the following:

- Landscape photo
- Mid chest and up, space above head
- Person to be framed centre of photo
- Softer, not too bright, no highlights
- Consistent lighting and framing across the series
- Blurred backgrounds
- Variance in what you see in the backgrounds
- Professional clothing
- Cooler colours, blues and soft green hues
- Skin tones to be true to life
- Not too serious looking - smiles and happy but professional

*Please see examples to the right (please note do not crop the head like in the examples).

Event photography

Images are mostly used for social media and future event promotion.

Do:

- Capture dynamic images of people - Candid, real interactions or single or groups of people. Crowd shots with people enjoying themselves, try to get as high as you can. Speakers actively engaged with each other, try to position yourself at the side of the stage.
- Capture in-focus images - Try to have a light source behind you.

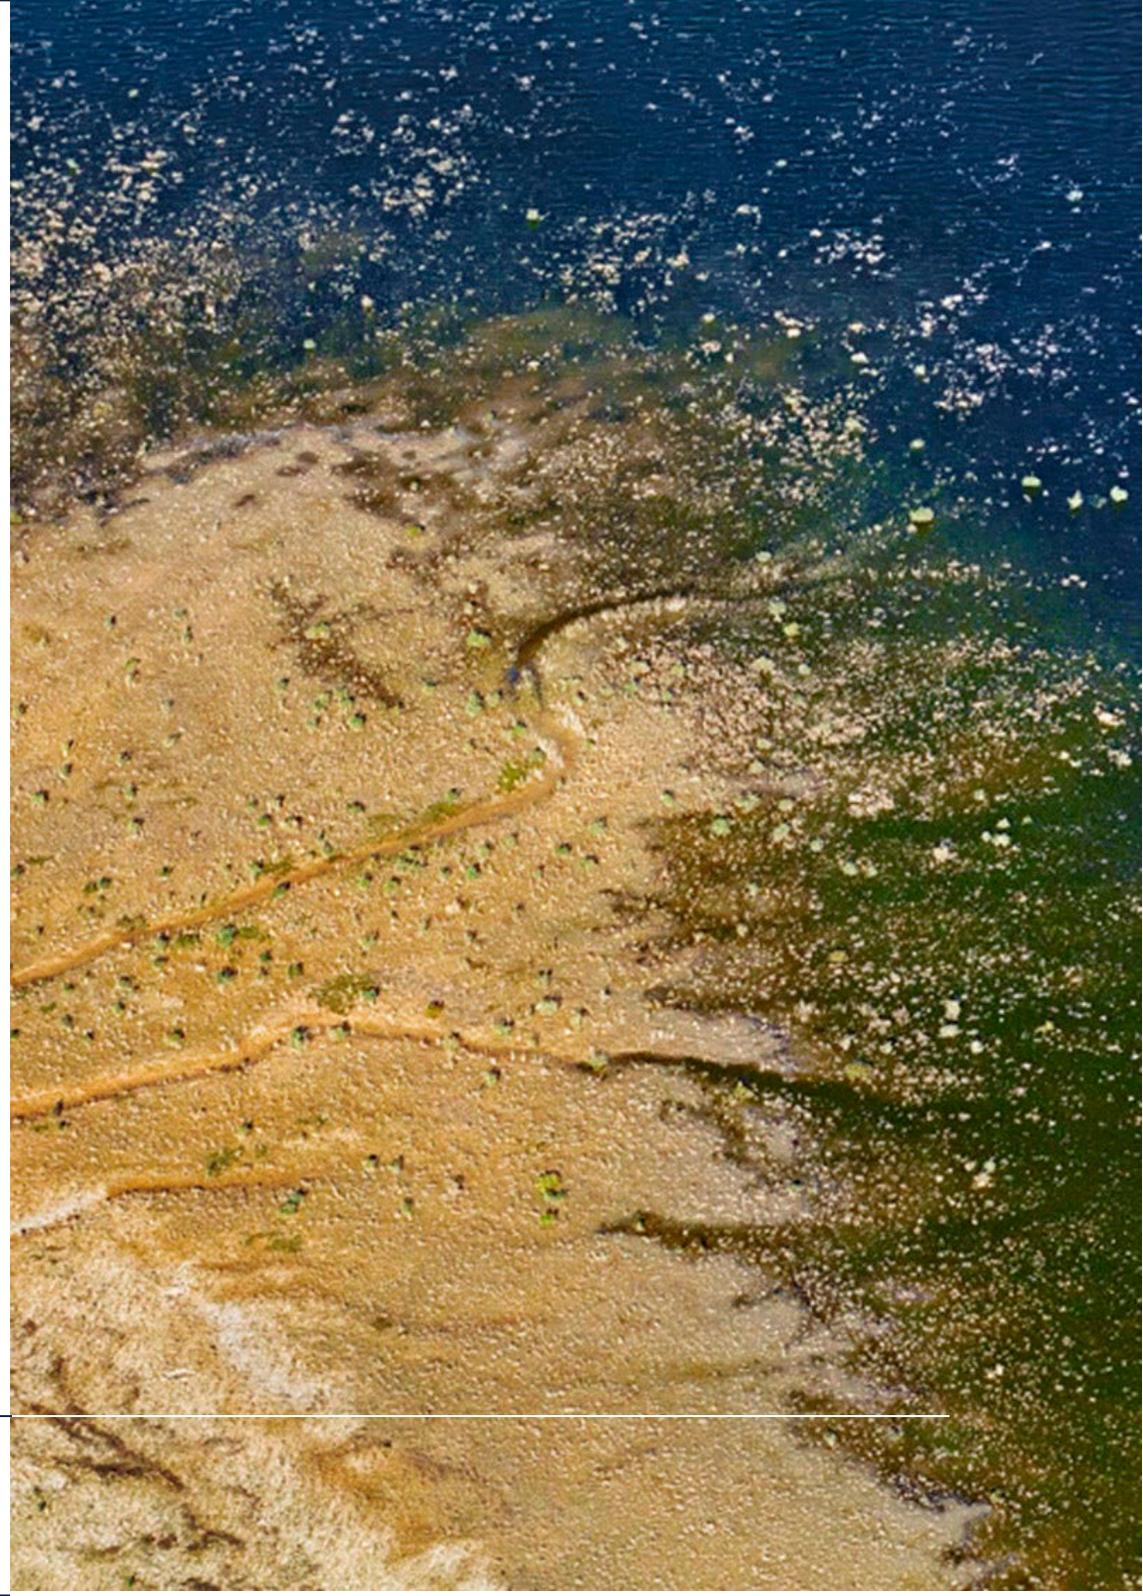

Avoid:

- Blurry or low light images - Avoid taking images from the back of the room.
- Empty rooms, collateral only shots or the screen - The branding will be added to these images, including the presentation is not necessary.

eg. Joe is a creative thinker with a background in environmental resource management. He is recognised for his responsibility in leading and managing strategic policy projects across the business. This is supported by his experience, which spans major projects in water resource management, infrastructure, and expertise as well as other non-water sectors.

Joe topped his undergraduate degree for which he was awarded the Australian Institute of Science and Technology Prize and won the ANU Award for Environmental Policy. This academic success is underpinned by his aptitude for critical thinking and has seen Joe quickly develop into an experienced Senior Consultant since joining Aither in 2015.

Joe has a particular interest in promoting the values and behaviours that make Aither an exciting and leading place to work – as well as a rewarding company to work with. This is reflected in the genuine relationships and ties Joe has with staff and clients alike.
